

Why Realtors Need a Mobile App

Listings are the main reason that real estate companies develop apps, but that isn't all. you can use them for marketing and promotions too. using geofencing and push notifications, you'll recruit new clients right from the app, based on their own needs, interest and location.

Real Estate Agents

Place your listings in the palm of the buyer's hands. With in-depth property info and on-the-go contact capabilities, you'll be selling houses up from under people's feet. Add photos and listing details so users are ready to buy before they reach the front door.

- Add new property listings daily
- Broadcast open house dates
- Customise click-to-call and email features
- Give one-touch directions
- Sync up YouTube channels for virtual tours
- Calculate mortgage rates right through the app
- Showcase the neighbourhood hotspots
- And more ...
